The TBR Takeover is a twice yearly tiktok event run by Nicola ormerod and a small dedicated crew. Each event showcases Indie and Self published Authors and their books.

We put together a catalogue of these books, readers build their June or November TBR list. We send links to the book for the readers to download digital copies and we all read them together and review on the set month. All the authors ask in return is an honest review on tiktok. Other platforms also welcome of course.

The event is free for both authors and readers.

Find out more on the website.

Sign up for the website so you get all the latest TBR news. It's a great way for authors and readers to connect.

This reading journal aims to make the event a little more fun. You can record your thoughts, feelings and reviews about the books you have chosen to read. You can even use the free downloadable version to form a basis for review videos.
